

CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY

Information for Financial Aid Recipients
Terms and Conditions of Awards
Important information is contained in this letter

Information regarding your Award Notice

- x Your financial aid is awarded based on the housing status that you report on your FAFSA. If your actual housing status is different from what is reported, you must notify the financial aid office for a corrected award. If Financial Aid determines that your housing status is in conflict with the FAFSA, your aid will be adjusted accordingly.
- x Concordia University's financial aid program is based upon the premise that parents (of dependents) have the first obligation to provide for the education of their son or daughter. Students also have

- X I am responsible for repaying any funds that I receive which cannot reasonably be attributed to meeting my educational expenses related to Concordia. I further understand that the amount of any repayment is based on federal regulations.
- X If you do not need the maximum amount of the Federal Subsidized/Unsubsidized loan(s) awarded, draw a line through the amount and write in the lesser amount desired. The Federal loan processor retains 1.059% of the loan at the time of disbursement.
- X I authorize the Financial Aid Office to discuss my application and my financial situation with and provide necessary academic information to, public or recognized private agencies which may also be considering me for financial aid.
- X I agree to provide further information or any documentation relating to financial aid, which is requested. In addition, I affirm that any funds received under the Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Grant, Federal College Work Study, Federal Stafford Loan or Federal PLUS Loan Programs, will be used solely for expenses related to attendance at Concordia University.

Acceptance

- X Once you have made your decision to attend Concordia, please accept your financial aid package by signing and returning one copy of this notice, or through your Portal account (my.cuw.edu or my.cuaa.edu). The university reserves the right to make adjustments in cases of reduction in allowances from the state or federal government or in the event of over awards.

As a recipient of student financial aid, you may be receiving funds from federal, state, institutional, or private agencies. The acceptance of this financial aid award signifies that you have read, understood, and are aware of the obligations and responsibilities contained in this guide Also, you are permitting Concordia to monitor all financial assistance you may receive including earnings from employment. The amount of your assistance should not exceed your assessed financial need. If it does, your financial aid may be adjusted to eliminate an ‘over award’ situation.

Responsibility of Recipients Read this Information for Financial Aid Recipients carefully. You are responsible for this information regarding your award.

Credit Hour Requirement (undergraduates) Unless stated otherwise on the award letter, your award was made assuming that you will be enrolled for at least twelve credit hours each term (full time). If you will be less than full time, your award may either be canceled or revised to a

Types of Aid Significant differences occur among the types of financial aid you may receive. If you have a loan, you must have signed a promissory note which is a legally binding promise to repay the loan during the years following graduation. A grant or scholarship is considered gift aid which you do not earn or repay unless you withdraw during the semester. A campus employment award indicates an opportunity to earn money on campus while you are attending school.

Campus Employment If an amount is shown for employment, it is the maximum you may earn during the school year. There is no guarantee that you will earn the amount indicated since you will be paid every other week for actual number of hours you have worked. You should keep record of your earnings so you will know your cumulative earnings in relation to

Satisfactory Academic Progress Concordia provides financial aid to students who are

Alternative Loans

An alternative; or private loan, is a loan in the student's name, but generally requires a co-borrower. Concordia does not endorse any alternative lender and encourages students to be good consumers and select a loan that best fits their needs. We do provide a website that lists the lenders that students used over the past three years. You can use this site to compare and search for the lender that will best fit your needs. You are not limited to the lenders on this list and we will gladly work with any lender a student wants to use. Feel free to use the link below or follow the steps listed to access it through the Student Portal.
